

WALK-OVER FOR McMILLAN

Former Governor Easy Winner
In Field Of Five In Tennessee.

PRESTON CAME IN SECOND

In General State Goes Democratic By Twenty-Thousand.

Nashville, Aug. 2.—Incomplete and unofficial returns from all over the state indicate that ex-Governor Benton McMILLAN is the democratic nominee for governor by a handsome majority. Hon. T. R. Preston ran second, with Faulkner probably third, Crabtree fourth, and Tyne fifth.

While the size of Governor McMILLAN's majority will not be definitely known until complete returns are received, it is evident that he made a splendid race, and easily outdistanced all competitors. His vote was confined to no locality or grand division, which accounts for the big total he rolled up.

At McMILLAN headquarters here it is claimed that the ex-governor has carried seventy-five of the ninety-six counties of the state, and has polled 60 per cent of the entire vote cast.

In the general election Judge Felix W. Moore, the democratic nominee, was elected to the court of civil appeals over his opponent, Judge H. N. Cate, republican nominee. Judge Moore's majority is estimated at 20,000. He carried the majority of the counties of Middle and West Tennessee and the democratic counties of East Tennessee.

Garden Party.

A very delightful social event was the garden party this week, given by Mr. John L. Rickman and his sister, Miss Virginia at their home, two miles from town.

The lawn was lighted with many colored lamps and the house very artistically decorated in sunflowers, the color scheme, yellow, being carried out in the refreshments.

The host and hostess were assisted in receiving their guests by their charming little house guests, Misses Douglas and Martha Lander, of Pembroke, Misses Hallie May Dillman and Inez Whitlow, of Pembroke, presided at the punch bowl in the dining room.

Contests during the evening added much to the merriment of the occasion and much jolly rivalry was provoked by some of these, Miss Douglas Lander receiving the highest prize, Miss Katherine Whitlow the second while Mr. Lucien Moseley was forced to search for the booby prize. There were a number of out-of-town guests and the young people made merry until a late hour.

Stanley's Newest Bill.

Washington.—A bill by Representative Stanley to define more specifically the term "misbranded," as used in the pure food law, was reported favorably by the House Commerce Committee.

The measure would make it illegal to sell any drug under the name of some other article; make compulsory the printing of the quality or proportion of alcohol, morphine or other narcotics in drugs offered for sale; and prohibit the printing on labels of false curative or therapeutic claim.

In Solitary Confinement.

Henry Yontsey is in solitary confinement at the State penitentiary, for violating the prison rules. He is said to have written letters and had them smuggled outside the prison walls and he refuses to tell who aided him. He will be kept in confinement until he divulges the names of his accomplices.—Georgetown Times.

BLIND FORTUNE TELLER

Out On Clarksville Pike Kept Busy All the Time.

If anybody imagines that "Blind Mary," the fortune teller, is not a magnet, they are mightily mistaken. Our information comes from a man who has "been there"—yes, been there twice, and he may go there again; not that he believes in the old blind negro's power to read the future, but he went with a friend who does, or is willing to give her a chance.

But there are hundreds of people here who have consulted the woman, but whether or not they were satisfied is another question.

When the party referred to was out there last Wednesday afternoon he found a swarm of humanity seeking light from the woman who claims to be able to tell of things to come. He counted thirty-nine men and ladies in the yard and grouped about the premises, all patiently awaiting their turn. Many others, like the gentleman spoken of, had previously had a day and hour fixed for a revelation of hidden things, but so busy was Blind Mary that other times had to be fixed. The question with some of them was, doubtless, "If the delay lasts much longer what will Blind Mary have to tell me?" The cost is only 25 cents, and the quarters are certainly rolling in the fortune teller's direction, whether she has superhuman vision or not.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Will Brumfield, the largest market gardener in this section, says he has raised but two crops this year—strawberries and cabbage. Though he has been worked nearly to death, his other crops of "garden truck" and a little too near the danger-line to make a fellow over hopeful.

Brick laying was begun on the Cooper picture show building last Thursday morning.

The concrete floors in the two new rooms in the Hupson block will be completed in a couple of days—in fact that in the smaller room is already finished. The double room, to be used as a storage house for Cadillac automobiles, will require a day or two more for the concreters to finish up.

Next Monday will be county court day. The first Monday in August was the old-time election, when primaries and conventions were unknown and every man had a right to run for office that wanted to without putting up his little wad for the privilege, and free for all fights were the fashion and the first load of watermelons was brought in, and a man had the right to say who he voted for. But how things have changed since the importation of an English puzzle commonly known as the Australian ballot.

Wonder if the people who have seen so many flights in Judge Prows's flying machines that they have become commonplace, really know the test a man has to undergo to become a licensed aviator? If you have been thinking of making a bird out of yourself, remember that the rules require that you shall be twenty-one years old, you must have made a flight of fifty miles, must fly to the height of 2,500 feet, shut off your motor and glide to a point not more than 328 feet. Are you ready?

Why is Hopkinsville like wine? She "improves with age." From the best information obtainable the city is now in its 115th year. "How fast the young thing grows!"

The katydid has spoken and says we will have frost September 15th. The tobacco will be out of the way by that time.

The soldier boys will be home by Monday if they don't get here by tomorrow night.

The seasons are out of joint and have been all the year. Morpheus has held a carnival lasting a week or more, and his devotees have been as happy as one can be, knocking it off at a two forty rate and rising in the morning fresh as a lark. Here it is the third day of August and the nights are as cool as if it were the first of October.

The first load of home-grown melons was brought in last Thursday. The price resembled the upward flight of a flying machine—almost out of sight.

Thus far there has not been any want of room in the Bull Moose band wagon in Hopkinsville and the driver's name has not yet been positively made known.

HOUSEBREAKING

Charge Against Negro Placed In Jail.

George Willie Gray, col., was arrested at Gracey Thursday, charged with housebreaking. Gray was brought here and lodged in jail. His examining trial will be held some time next week. The negro is accused of breaking into the house of another negro on the farm of Mr. W. H. Boyd, near Newstead.

Death of Beautiful Child.

Evelyn Nelson, the nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Penick, died July 25, after a two days' illness of cholera infantum. The body, accompanied by the family and friends, was taken to Elkton, the interment following in Glenwood cemetery. Messrs. Joe, Bernice, Everett and Caldwell Penick acted as pall bearers. The deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved parents.

NOT MUCH DOING

In The Matrimonial Line During July.

County Clerk Stowe had lots of time to devote to other business during the month of July. Cupid seemed to be taking his vacation and allowed only nine white hits in the matrimonial game. Below is the list.

- 2d—Joseph E. Carty to Mary Riley.
- 5th—Otto Dunning to Maggie Pyle.
- 5th—C. C. Alexander to Eunice P. Adams.
- 16th—Algie H. Smith to Etta Keith Meisner.
- 22d—C. K. Bowman and Frances Ruth Wyatt.
- 27th—Allie A. Pyle and Minnie Lee Hicks.
- 27th—E. C. Rutherford and Frances St. Charles.
- 30th—Thos. Bowles and Cora Hudson.

WOODROW WILSON'S ADMINISTRATIVE ABILITY.

Woodrow Wilson.

During his campaign for Governor it suited his political opponents to describe him as a man who had led a cloistered life so that he was unfamiliar with affairs and was wanting in administrative ability. Such a notion seemed very grotesque to those who knew Woodrow Wilson. It altogether misconceived the nature of a university president's work. The post calls for administrative ability of a very high order, and incidentally brings about contacts and acquaintanceships that put one in personal touch with all great national interests, whether business or political. The administrative problems that may engage a university president's attention involve men of exceptional ability and force, so that controversies, if they arise, are more than usually formidable.

Woodrow Wilson possesses in a singularly high degree the great administrative faculty of prompt apprehension of the true nature of a case, so as to disengage it from the irrelevant and adventitious and to guide discussion to sound conclusions. Whatever might be the matter coming up at faculty meetings, whether through a committee report or a chance motion, his mind seized it at once, stating the case clearly and bringing out all its elements for consideration. At times he took an active part in debate. The speech he made in introducing the preceptorial system has become a faculty tradition as a model of perspicacity and force. His quickness of apprehension was also marked whenever he took part in a conference or was present at a committee meeting. No matter how complicated the subject, his mind seemed to bear effectively upon it at once, cutting into it like a circular saw into a knotty log. His apprehension extends to the points of view of all concerned, and he is particularly happy in removing differences by promoting clearer understanding. From "Woodrow Wilson—A Character Sketch," by Henry Jones Ford, in the American Review of Reviews for August.

It begins to look like the El Paso police will have to be sent over the line to restore quiet in Mexico.

PRIMARY HELD TODAY.

First Official Primary For Nominating Officers In Kentucky.

BOTH PARTIES MUST ACT.

No Contests In This County Or District.—Fights In Four Districts.

The official primary election for nominating candidates of both parties will be held throughout Kentucky today. The only name on the ballots in Christian county (except in four precincts) is that of A. O. Stanley, who will be nominated for Congress the sixth time without opposition. There is a magistrates' contest in the Pembroke district.

There are Congressional contests in the First, Third, Fourth and Eighth districts for the Democratic nominations, all of the old Congressmen except Ollie James being candidates to succeed themselves.

The polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. and only qualified voters can participate. The officers are divided politically and all returns are as in regular elections. Saloons are required to close.

INSTANT DEATH

Caused By Sudden Attack of Cerebral Thrombosis.

Joe Winroe col., butcher for Mr. N. Stadelman, died suddenly Tuesday, aged 65 years. He had been sick about three weeks, but a sudden attack of cerebral thrombosis caused death, which was instantaneous. Winroe came here from Bellevue about twenty-five years ago and had since been engaged in business as a butcher and was considered an expert in his line.

FOUND DEAD.

Colored Laborer Expires Suddenly At Home.

Henry Bowling, a colored laborer in the employ of the Forbes Manufacturing Co., was found dead in bed at his home on Howe street Tuesday morning. The supposition is that death was caused by heart trouble. Bowling was 40 years old and a native of Todd county. After an inquest the body was taken to Pembroke for interment.

Long Balloon Race.

"Uncle Sam" proved a winner again when the balloon at that name, piloted by Capt. H. E. Honeywell and assistant of St. Louis, landed at Manassas, Va., near the historic Bull Run battlefield, having defeated all other entries in the elimination race from Kansas City to decide which three Americans should take part in the international balloon contest to start from Stuttgart, Germany, Oct. 26, next, for the James Gordon Bennett trophy.

Capt. Honeywell and his aide, Roy F. Donaldson, spent thirty-five hours in the air, and as the crew flies, covered a distance of 925 miles.

Allowing for the fact that their course from Kansas City to Manassas was roughly in the shape of a crescent, the airmen estimated that they sailed more than 1,200 miles.
